Boston Flower & Garden Show “Savor Spring!” Seminar Series

Boston, MA – Local gardeners will leave the 2018 Boston Flower & Garden Show enthusiastic about the approaching First Day of Spring. The extravagant five-day Show will be at the Seaport World Trade Center in Boston from March 14-18, 2018.

“As winter wanes, our designers and presenters will whet your appetite for the sumptuous joys of the spring season ahead,” said Carolyn Weston, Boston Flower & Garden Show Director.

Several new Boston Flower Show seminars speak directly to the motivated gardener. Presented by area experts, attendees will savor learning more effective and efficient tips and techniques for the upcoming season.

Grow your knowledge with subjects that include:

- Start Growing My Own Food, featuring Veggie Garden Remix and Grow What You Love: Growing a Food Garden That’s Right For You
- Make the Neighbors Jealous (Or Grow the Best Flowers on the Block) for roses, hydrangea, peonys and more!
- Elevate Our Landscaping Game, with topics like Landscaping Lighting Basics and Designing Gardens with Peonys
- Become a Thriftier Gardener, teaching the benefits of Organic Seed Starting and how to become The Budget-Wise Gardener

“Enjoy the first taste of spring at the Show. Gather all of the recipes and ingredients you’ll need for a year of successful gardening,” added Weston.

The Boston Flower & Garden Show is about inspiring, educating and motivating the region’s gardeners. Whether for curb appeal, backyard, kitchen rooftop or community garden, this is where New England’s green lovers and families go to discover ideas while having fun.
